

8. FINISHING OFF

Once the pool is full and you are satisfied with the liner fitment, excess liner material may be trimmed off. Remember to leave enough overhang for adjustment and re-fitting of the liner should the pool be drained and liner removed at any time. Don't backfill around the outside of the pool for at least two weeks to allow the pool to settle. Only river sand should be used as a backfilling material and should not be filled deeper than 150mm unless a brick retaining wall is constructed to prevent side loading of the pool. Any surface of the pool which is covered by backfill, should be coated with Fish oil or Zinc Chromate Paint to protect against corrosion.

9. CARE AND MAINTENANCE OF YOUR POOL

All pools require regular maintenance for health reasons. After assembling the pool it is necessary to add a dose of chlorine and maintain on a regular daily basis. Recommendations as to the amount of chlorine required for your size pool is shown on the containers. As the amount of chlorine required varies in accordance with weather conditions and different brands of chlorine, we recommend the purchase and use of a "Poolmaster" Test Kit to correctly maintain chlorine and P.H. levels in your pool. Dry chlorine should be firstly dissolved in a bucket of water for about 10 minutes then distributed by pouring around the pool away from the filter. Any undissolved residue remaining in the bucket should be discarded, not put into the pool as this tends to discolour the liner and make it brittle. We recommend that your pool remains filled throughout the year, provided chemicals are added regularly. Pools may be dismantled and stored during winter if desired, but all sections should be cleaned and dried, metal components should be lightly oiled for protection. All traces of oil should be removed before re-erecting the pool. Liners must be thoroughly cleaned, dried and stored under cover in a cool place. Some liner shrinkage will take place during storage (approx. 5%) this should be borne in mind if excess is trimmed off the liner during construction. Stern's are not responsible for shrinkage of liners whilst stored. Stern's Playland supply a comprehensive range of pool care products such as, "Poolmaster" Test Kits, Filters, Vacuum Outfits, Pool Ladders, Repair Kits, Dust Covers, Leaf Scoops etc. . . . Ask your pool dealer for Stern's approved products for best results from your pool.
